Message from R. Manjunath

Horse Racing community is famously described as living in their own little bubble and it has in many ways a world of its own language – arcane technical terms and ancient slangs which few people beyond racing understand, yet racing people are human people, they do live in the real world. With the racecourse in full bloom, the second day of the Racing carnival 2022 offers a relaxed day of racing where racegoers can wander across the racecourse's luscious lawns under the glorious English like sunshine.

Each of the races at Royal Turf Club is a chance to be a part of history which creates memories for life from panoramic views with unrivaled experience to intimate settings with close friends. Although there isn't an official dress code for the "Magic Million Race Day", smart is preferable and often best adopted. While the men are interested in the latest magic millions cup betting tips, women are all about looking fabulous and this event holds great value among ladies because they get a chance to flaunt their fashion sense and style.

Alcazaba lived up to her potential to outclass Spirited Touch and Western Wind to win the RTC Magic Million Cup, for horses of Class 1 & 2 of 1600meters. Owned by the Edwards Stable and ridden by jockey J. Chinoy, Alcazaba proved that she's the Queen of Nuwara Eliya and beat two of the top contenders in the Class 1 & 2, who had beaten the chestnut mare, in convincing fashion. Spirited Touch is a former Governor's Cup winner and Western Wind claimed that Governor's Cup nine days ago in a race that had the similar excitement.

All time hits all the time!
